

PRIVACY POLICY

Effective Date: January 1, 2023

1. OVERVIEW

We strive to deliver outstanding products and services and value our customers' business and loyalty. We recognize that privacy is an important issue. We have developed this Policy to explain our practices regarding the personal information we collect from you or about you when you purchase products from us, through written or verbal communications with us, when you use this website or mobile applications. While this Policy broadly describes the practices we have adopted within North America, local laws vary, and some jurisdictions may place restrictions on our collection, use, or disclosure of personal information. Our actual practices in such jurisdictions may be more limited than those described in this Policy to comply with local requirements. If you are a resident of California, please see Appendix A for information regarding your rights under California law. If you are a resident of Nevada, please see Appendix B for information regarding your rights under Nevada law.

By accessing or using our websites, mobile applications (“apps”), or submitting information to us, or otherwise agreeing to this Policy, e.g., in the context of registering for any of our products or services, you understand and consent to our collection and use of your personal information as described herein.

2. PERSONAL INFORMATION WE COLLECT AND USE

Personal information is information that identifies, relates to or describes you or can reasonably be associated with or linked to you. We collect personal information directly from you through our websites and apps and in our contact with you. We may also collect information related to conversations, including records or copies of your correspondence with us or customer service calls for quality assurance and training purposes, and other communications such as website chat support, in-app messages, or SMS.

We collect and use personal information in certain common cases, including:

2.1 Purchase of Services. In connection with your purchase of services from us, we collect personal information. The information we collect in these cases may include first name, last name; shipping address, city, county, state, zip code; billing address, city, county, state, zip code; telephone number; e-mail address; gender; age; account name, account password; goods purchased; customer comments; date of purchase; a copy of your original invoice; invoice number; credit card number, expiration date and security code. We use this information to facilitate the purchase transaction. The personal information described in this paragraph is the “Purchase Data.”

2.2 Customer Service. We provide customer service by telephone and through our website. In providing customer service we may collect personal information from you such as name, address, e-mail address, telephone, service purchases, product sales, and other information related to your service request. We use this information in order to investigate, resolve and respond to your customer service issue. The personal information described in this paragraph is the “Customer Service Data.”

2.3 Customer Surveys. We may collect personal information at various events through surveys in which you may choose to participate. The information we collect may include age; date collected; purchase history, habits, and preferences; email; first name; last name; and other individual survey responses as indicated at the time of collection. We use this information to understand the needs and preferences of our customers so that we can improve our goods and services. The personal information described in this paragraph is the “Survey Data.”

2.4 Security. Our locations use security cameras to monitor the activity of our customers and staff. The information we collect includes video recordings. Audio is not recorded. The camera images are not monitored in real time. The recordings are viewed only if there is reason to believe that there has been a breach of security. We use this information to detect security incidents and to report to law enforcement agencies. The personal information described in this paragraph is the “Security Data.”

2.5 Automatically Collected Personal Information. By its nature, our websites and apps also automatically collect some personal information about you. In order for you to view or interact with our website or apps, we receive individual identifiers like your IP address, and some network information like the date and time that pages are visited. We may collect this personal information even if you are not logged in. We collect some personal information automatically using cookies or other tracking technologies as described below in Section 7. The personal information automatically collected may be collected by or on behalf of third parties who may provide us with inferences or aggregate reporting based on analysis of such personal information. We use this information to understand how our customers are using our websites and apps. The personal information described in this paragraph is the “Use Data.”

2.6 Employees. We collect personal information in the context of your role as an applicant to, an employee of, director of, or officer of, our business. The personal information we collect in these cases may include name, social security number, address, date of birth, gender, race, ethnicity, bank account and routing number, tax filing status, emergency contact information, telephone number, family member names, educational background, criminal background and employment history, medical provider information, dependent name(s), date of birth, gender and address, medical insurance provider, compensation and benefits data, workplace, and title. We only use this information for purposes of evaluating qualifications related to your job application or your job duties; evaluating your performance; or for providing compensation, benefits and services in the context of the employment relationship. The personal information described in this paragraph is the “Employee Data.”

2.7 Individuals Representing Businesses. We collect personal information in the context of your role as a representative of a business. The personal information we collect in these cases may include name, address, email address, telephone, date of birth, gender, social security number and personal financial information. We use this information for communicating with you in your role as a representative of a business or if you are an owner of a business to evaluate your creditworthiness. The personal information described in this paragraph is the “Biz Rep Data”

In addition to the information we collect from you directly, we may also infer information about you based on the information you provide to us or from other information we collect.

3. SOURCES FROM WHICH WE COLLECT PERSONAL INFORMATION

We may collect personal information about you from a number of sources in addition to those means of collection indicated above, including offline or through sources unrelated to your use of our websites or apps or interaction with us at our stores. For example, we may collect personal information from publicly accessible sources (e.g., property records); directly from a third party, (e.g., credit reporting agencies or customer due diligence providers); or from a third party with your consent (e.g., your bank). We may merge or co-mingle that personal information with the personal information we maintain about you and other data collected on or through our website. Categories of sources from which we may collect personal information include: advertising networks; internet service providers; data analytics providers; government entities; operating systems and platforms; and social networks

4. PURPOSES FOR WHICH WE COLLECT PERSONAL INFORMATION

In addition to the purposes set forth in Section 2 above, we may collect your personal information for the following purposes:

- 4.1 Auditing. Auditing related to a current interaction with you, including, but not limited to, counting ad impressions to unique visitors, verifying positioning and quality of ad impressions, and auditing compliance with this specification and other standards;
- 4.2 Security. Helping to ensure security and integrity to the extent the use of your personal information is reasonably necessary and proportionate for these purposes;
- 4.3 Debugging. Debugging to identify and repair errors that impair existing intended functionality;
- 4.4 Transient Use. Short-term, transient use, including, but not limited to, non-personalized advertising shown as part of a consumer's current interaction with us provided that your personal information is not disclosed to a third party and is not used to build a profile about you or otherwise alter your experience outside the current interaction with us;
- 4.5 Services. Performing services on our behalf, including maintaining or servicing accounts, providing customer service, processing or fulfilling orders and transactions, verifying customer information, processing payments, providing financing, providing analytic services, providing storage or providing similar services on our behalf;
- 4.6 Advertising. Providing advertising and marketing services to you.
- 4.7 Research. Research. Undertaking internal research for technological development and demonstration; and
- 4.8 Quality and Safety. Undertaking activities to verify or maintain the quality or safety of our products and services and to improve, upgrade, or enhance our products and services.
- 4.9 Commercial Interests. Advancing our commercial or economic interests, such as by inducing a person to buy, rent, lease, join, subscribe to, provide, or exchange products, goods, property, information, or services, or enabling or effecting, directly or indirectly, a commercial transaction.

5. LIMITED USE OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

We will only use your personal information for the purposes for which we have collected it, unless we reasonably determine we need to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose. For example, we consider de-identification, aggregation, and other forms of anonymization of personal information to be compatible with the purposes listed above and in your interest, because the anonymization of such information reduces the likelihood of improper disclosure of that information.

If you wish to receive an explanation as to how the processing for a particular purpose is compatible with the original purpose, please contact us via the information specified in the Contact section below.

6. OUR DISCLOSURE OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

In order to provide you with the best products and services, we disclose your personal information to our affiliates, service providers, contractors and other third parties as described below.

6.1 Affiliates. We may disclose your personal information to our parent company and entities under shared corporate control ("Affiliates") for the purposes described in Sections 2 and 4 above.

6.2 Contractors. We disclose personal information to entities that help us fulfill a business or commercial purpose including, but not limited to, companies that deliver our services to you ("Contractors"). Contractors are not permitted to sell or share your personal information or to use your personal information other than to perform the tasks we assign to them.

6.3 Service Providers. We disclose your personal information to companies that process personal information on our behalf for a business or commercial purpose, including, but not limited to, website hosting, app design, database management, web analytics, app analytics, billing, payment processing, and communicating with you about our products or services ("Service Providers"). Service Providers are not permitted to sell or share your personal information or to use your personal information other than to perform the tasks we assign to them.

6.4 Third Parties. In addition to third parties in the foregoing categories, we may disclose personal information to the following categories of third parties: advertising networks, internet service providers, data analytics providers, government entities, operating systems and platforms, social networks and data brokers. For the purposes of this Policy, "third party" or "third parties" are entities that may sell, retain, use, or disclose personal information for purposes beyond providing services directly to us for our business or commercial purposes.

6.5 Compliance with Laws. We cooperate with government and law enforcement officials and private parties to enforce and comply with the law. We may disclose your personal information to government or law enforcement officials or private parties in response to lawful requests when we believe disclosure or sharing is necessary to comply with any legal obligation, enforce or apply our terms and conditions, respond to claims and legal process, protect our services, members, dealers, our rights and/or the safety of the public or any person, or prevent or stop any illegal, unethical or legally actionable activity (including for the purposes of fraud protection). As purchasers of secondhand goods, we are required in some jurisdictions to report to local or state law enforcement agencies personal information about those from whom we purchase such goods.

6.6 Sale or Transfer of Business or Assets. We may disclose some or all of your personal information in connection with a merger, bankruptcy, or other transaction in which another entity assumes control of all or part of our business. If another company or individual acquires our business, or assets, that company or individual will possess the personal information collected by us and will assume the rights and obligations regarding your personal information as described in this Policy.

7. COOKIES AND OTHER TRACKING TECHNOLOGIES

Third parties, including Google and Facebook, may use cookies, web beacons, and other storage technologies to collect or receive information from our websites and elsewhere on the internet and use that information to provide measurement services and target ads. You can opt-out of the collection and use of information for ad targeting using the options described in the Opting Out section below. The tracking technologies we utilize include the following:

7.1 Cookies. We may use different types of cookies when providing different types of web-related services. If you do not know what cookies are, or how to control or delete them, then we recommend you visit www.aboutcookies.org for detailed guidance. Cookies allow us to identify and authenticate visitors, track aggregate behavior, and enable important service features. We use both session ID cookies and persistent cookies. Session ID cookies are used to maintain your browser state as you browse through services, and they expire when you close your browser. A persistent Cookie remains on your hard drive for an extended period, and we use that to identify you should you return to services and want to find information you had previously entered or accessed.

We may also contract with analytics services, third-party affiliate services, and third-party advertising companies to collect similar information. These cookies allow the ad servers to recognize your computer each time they send you an online advertisement, and compile information about you or others who use your computer. This information allows such advertising networks to, among other things, deliver targeted advertisements that they believe will be of most interest to you.

You may disable cookies through your web browser. For information about opting out of these collection services, please see the Your Choices section below.

7.2 Analytics. We may use analytics tools or similar tools provided by third parties (“Data Analytics Providers”) to help analyze how you and other users utilize our services. Analytics tools use cookies and other tracking technologies to collect information such as how often users visit our website, what pages they visit, and what other websites they have used prior to visiting our website. We use the information we get from analytics tools only to improve services. Analytics tools collect the IP address or other unique identifier assigned to you on the date you visited services. We do not combine the information generated through the use of analytics tools with your other personal information. Analytics tools provided by third parties plant a persistent cookie on your web browser to identify you as a unique user the next time you visit our website, and the treatment of that information is governed by the third party’s terms of use and/or privacy policy. To learn about how Google uses data related to website analytics when you use our site or apps, click here: <https://policies.google.com/technologies/partner-> sites. For information about how Facebook uses cookies and other storage technologies, click here: <https://www.facebook.com/policies/cookies/>.

7.3 Third Party Collection. The following third parties collect your personal information when you use our website: Google Analytics.

7.4 BY USING OUR WEBSITE, YOU GIVE CONSENT FOR US TO SHARE YOUR DATA WITH THESE PROCESSORS, AND FOR THEM TO TRANSFER THIS INFORMATION ONWARD TO THEIR PARTNERS IN CONNECTION WITH PROVIDING YOU SERVICES.

8. OPTING OUT

You can make the following choices regarding your personal information:

8.1 Promotional and Other Emails. You may choose, during the account registration processes on one of our websites, or otherwise, to provide us with your email address for the purpose of allowing us to send newsletters, surveys, offers, and other materials related to our services. You can stop receiving these emails by sending a request to the email address in the Contact Us section below. If you decide not to receive these emails, we may still send you communications related to your current or former membership.

8.2 Behavioral Advertising. Our services may use behavioral advertising. This means that a third party may use technology (e.g., a cookie) to collect information about your use of our websites so that they can provide advertising about products and services tailored to your interests. That advertising may appear either on our website, or on other websites not operated by us. If you do not want third parties to collect information about your use of our services, you can opt-out of such at the Digital Advertising Alliance in the US, the Digital Advertising Alliance of Canada in Canada, or the European Digital Advertising Alliance in Europe.

PLEASE NOTE THAT OPTING-OUT OF BEHAVIORAL ADVERTISING DOES NOT MEAN THAT YOU WILL NOT RECEIVE ADVERTISING WHILE USING SERVICES. IT WILL, HOWEVER, EXCLUDE YOU FROM INTEREST-BASED ADVERTISING CONDUCTED THROUGH PARTICIPATING NETWORKS, AS PROVIDED BY THEIR POLICIES AND CHOICE MECHANISMS.

8.3 Analytics. Many analytics providers allow end-users to opt out of the retention of their information, including our third-party analytics providers. Please note that, typically, unless you create an account with the analytics provider, your choice to opt out applies only to the device from which you make the request, because the providers use cookies on that device to recognize your choice. If you get a new device, install a new web browser, update your browser, or otherwise erase/alter your browser cookie files you may clear the opt-out cookie.

You may learn more about the use of information by and opting-out of analytics from our third-party provider by visiting its opt-out page at the following links: www.google.com/policies/privacy/partners/ and <https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout> .

8.4 Cookies. You may disable, or delete cookies in your Web browser, but doing so may impact the usability of the website. To block cookies, you can also browse our service using your browser's anonymous usage setting (called "Incognito" in Chrome, "In Private" for Internet Explorer, "Private Browsing" in Firefox and Safari, etc.).

8.5 Do Not Track. Our website does not recognize and respond to "Do Not Track" requests available through many popular web browsers.

9. INFORMATION SECURITY

No method of transmission over the Internet, or method of electronic storage, is 100% secure. Therefore, we cannot guarantee its absolute security. We make efforts to protect your personal information from improper or unauthorized loss, misuse, access, disclosure, alteration, or destruction. If you have questions about the security of your personal information, contact us at the email or regular mail address specified in the Contact section below.

10. DATA RETENTION

We will retain your personal information for as long as necessary to fulfill the purposes for which we collected it, including for the purposes of satisfying any legal, accounting, or reporting requirements. To determine the appropriate retention period for personal information, we consider the amount, nature, and sensitivity of the personal information, the potential risk of harm from unauthorized use or disclosure of your personal information, the purposes for which we process your personal information, whether we can achieve those purposes through other means, and the applicable legal requirements.

11. THIRD-PARTY LINKS

Our websites or apps may contain links to other websites or apps. We are not responsible for the privacy practices or the content of these other websites or apps. You should read the policy statement of these other websites or apps to understand their policies. When you access linked websites or apps, you may be disclosing private information. It is your responsibility to keep such information private and confidential.

12. CHANGES TO THIS PRIVACY POLICY

We may update this Policy from time to time, in our sole discretion. When we do so, we will post the new Policy on our website. You should consult this Policy regularly for any changes. Continued use of services following posting of such changes constitutes your acknowledgement of such changes and agreement to be bound by the changes. If you do not agree, you should immediately discontinue your use of our website and services.

CALIFORNIA PRIVACY RIGHTS NOTICE

Effective Date: January 1, 2023

YOUR CALIFORNIA PRIVACY RIGHTS UNDER THE CCPA

Under the California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018, as amended by the California Privacy Rights Act of 2020 ("CCPA"), if you are a resident of California, you have the following rights with respect to your personal information.

1. Right to Know About Our Collection, Disclosure, Sharing and Sale of Personal Information about You.

Personal information as defined in the CCPA is information that identifies, relates to, describes, is reasonably capable of being associated with, or could reasonably be linked, directly or indirectly, to you, including the following categories of information: (a) identifiers; (b) categories described in California Civil Code §1798.80(e); (c) characteristics of protected classes; (d) commercial information; (e) biometric information; (f) internet or other electronic network activity; (g) geolocation data; (h) audio, electronic, visual, thermal, olfactory or similar information; (i) professional or employment related information; (j) education information; and (k) inferences drawn from such information to create a consumer profile.

You have the right to know the categories of personal information we have collected about you; the categories of sources from which we collect personal information; our business or commercial purpose for collecting, disclosing, sharing or selling personal information; the categories of third parties to whom we disclose, share or sell personal information, if any; and the specific pieces of personal information we have collected about you. Personal information includes “sensitive” personal as described below.

1.1. Right to Know About Our Collection, Disclosure, Sharing and Sale of “Sensitive” Personal Information about You.

“Sensitive” personal information as defined in the CCPA is personal information that reveals: (a) your social security, driver’s license, state identification card, or passport number; (b) your account log-in, financial account, debit card, or credit card number in combination with any required security or access code, password, or credentials allowing access to an account; (c) your precise geolocation; (d) your racial or ethnic origin, religious or philosophical beliefs, or union membership; (e) the contents of your mail, email, and text messages unless we are the intended recipient of the communication; and (f) your genetic data. “Sensitive” personal information also includes biometric information that is processed for the purpose of identifying you, information that is collected and analyzed concerning your health; or your sex life or sexual orientation.

You have the right to know the categories of “sensitive” personal information we have collected about you, the categories of sources from which we collect personal information, our business or commercial purpose for collecting, selling or sharing “sensitive” personal information, the categories of third parties with whom we sell or share “sensitive” personal information, if any, and the specific pieces of “sensitive” personal information we have collected about you.

1.2 Right to Delete Your Personal Information

Subject to the exceptions set out below, and upon your submission of a verifiable request, you have the right to deletion of your personal information from our records, and to have us direct our service providers, contractors and third parties to delete your personal information from their records.

We are not required to, and reserve our right to not delete your personal information if it is necessary to: (i) complete the transaction for which the personal information was collected, provide a good or service requested by you, or reasonably anticipated within the context of our ongoing business relationship with you, or otherwise perform a contract between you and us; (ii) help to ensure security and integrity to the extent the use of your personal information is reasonably necessary and proportionate for those purposes; (iii) debug to identify and repair errors that impair existing intended functionality; (iv) exercise free speech, ensure the right of another consumer to exercise his or her right of free speech, or exercise another right provided for by law; (v) comply with the California Electronic Communications Privacy Act pursuant to Chapter 3.6 (commencing with Section 1546) of Title 12 of Part 2 of the Penal Code; (vi) engage in public or peer-reviewed scientific, historical, or statistical research in the public interest that adheres to all other applicable ethics and privacy laws, when our deletion of the information is likely to render impossible or seriously impair the achievement of such research, provided we have obtained your informed consent; (vii) enable solely internal uses that are reasonably aligned with your expectations based on your relationship with us and compatible with the context in which you provided the information; and (viii) comply with a legal obligation.

1.3 Right to Correct Inaccurate Personal Information.

Subject to the exceptions set out below, and upon your submission of a verifiable request, you have the right to correct any inaccurate personal information in our records, and to have us direct our service providers, contractors and third parties to correct any inaccurate personal information from their records.

If we cannot verify your identity pursuant to the CCPA and its regulations we may deny a request to correct. In such event, we shall inform you that your identity cannot be verified.

In determining the accuracy of the personal information that is the subject of your request to correct, we shall consider the totality of the circumstances relating to the contested personal information. We may deny your request to correct if we determine that the contested personal information is more likely than not accurate based on the totality of the circumstances.

1.4 Right to Be Free from Discrimination

You have the right to not be discriminated against by us because you exercised any of your rights under the CCPA. This means we cannot, on the basis of the exercise of your rights thereunder, among other things, deny goods or services to you, charge different prices or rates for goods or services, including through the use of discounts or other benefits or imposing penalties; provide a different level or quality of goods or services to you; or suggest that you will receive a different price or rate for goods or services or a different level or quality of goods or services or retaliate against you as an employee, applicant for employment or independent contractor.

1.5 Right to Opt-Out of the Sale or Sharing of Personal Information

We do not disclose your personal information to third parties in exchange for monetary or other consideration. Such disclosures would be considered to be “Sales” under the CCPA. Additionally, we do not disclose your personal information to third parties for cross-context behavioral advertising purposes (“Share” or “Sharing”). Despite the fact that we do not Sell or Share your Personal Information, you still have the right to opt-out of the Selling or Sharing of your personal information and you may exercise your right by clicking the following link: [\[Insert Do Not Sell or Share My Personal Information Link\]](#). If you exercise your right to opt-out of the Selling or Sharing of your personal information, we will continue to refrain from Selling or Sharing your personal information, unless you subsequently provide express authorization for the sharing of your personal information. Right to Opt-Out by Using Opt-Out Preference Signals.

We will process any opt-out preference signal that (a) is in a format commonly used and recognized by businesses (for example, in an HTTP header field) and (b) is sent from a platform, technology, or mechanism that makes it clear to the consumer, whether in its configuration or in disclosures to the public, that the use of the signal is meant to have the effect of opting the consumer out of the sale and sharing of their personal information (“Opt-Out Preference Signal”). We shall treat the Opt-Out Preference Signal as a valid request to opt-out of the sale or sharing of personal information for your browser or device, and, if known, for you.

If the opt-out preference signal conflicts with other privacy settings that you have submitted to us, we will process the opt-out preference signal but may notify you of the conflict and provide you with the opportunity to consent to the sale or sharing of your personal information.

If the Opt-Out Preference Signal conflicts with your participation in a financial incentive program, we may notify you of the conflict and request your affirmation that you intend to withdraw from the financial incentive program. If you affirm your intent to withdraw we shall process the Opt-Out Preference Signal. If you do not affirm your intent to withdraw, we will not process the Opt-Out Preference Signal.

1.6 Right to Limit the Use of “Sensitive” Personal Information

We use your “sensitive” personal information only to the extent that it is necessary to perform our services as reasonably expected by you. If we were to use your “sensitive” personal information other than is necessary to perform our services, you would have the right to limit our use of your “sensitive” personal information to that which is necessary to provide our services to you.

1.7 Right of Children to Opt-In to the Sale of Personal Information

We do not knowingly collect or sell the personal information of minors under 16 years of age without affirmative authorization. For minors who wish to opt-in to the sale of their personal information, we have established the following processes:

Minors between 13 and 16 years of age:

In the case of consumers between 13 and 16 years of age, we require the consumer to affirmatively authorize the sale of the consumer’s personal information. In order to opt-in minors in this age range, as part of the account registration process for our products which may be targeted toward minors, we require the consumer or consumer’s parent or guardian to verify the consumer’s identity by providing at least two data points with data points maintained by the business, which we have determined to be reliable for the purpose of verifying the consumer.

Minors under 13 years of age:

In the case of consumers who are less than 13 years of age, we require the consumer’s parent to affirmatively authorize the sale of the consumer’s personal information. In order to opt-in minors in this age range, as part of the account registration process for our products which may be targeted toward minors, we require that the consumer’s parent or guardian verify the consumer’s identity, which we have determined to be reliable for the purpose of verifying the consumer.

We reserve the right to require additional information or not complete your request if we cannot verify your identity. If you are a parent or guardian seeking to opt-out on behalf of their child, please contact us at 1-888-840-8111 or email us at privacy@custom-goods.com with the subject “Minor Opt-Out.”

2. HOW TO EXERCISE YOUR CCPA RIGHTS

Unless otherwise specified, to exercise any of your rights described in this Appendix A, please submit your request to us at 1-888-840-8111 or email us at privacy@custom-goods.com with the subject “CCPA Consumer Request.”

In order to verify your request, we will need you to provide us with enough information to identify you (e.g., your full name, address, and customer or matter reference number), proof of your identity and address (e.g., a copy of your driving license or passport and a recent utility or credit card bill), and a description of what right you wish to exercise along with any information to which your requests relates. If feasible, we will match the identifying information provided by you with the personal information that we already maintain about you.

You may designate an authorized agent to make a request under the CCPA on your behalf. In order to fulfill your request to know or delete submitted by an authorized agent, you must provide the authorized agent written permission to do so, and we may require that you verify your own identity with us directly.

We reserve our right not to grant a consumer request if we cannot verify that the person making the request is the person about whom we have collected information, or someone authorized to act on such person’s behalf. You may only make a request to access or receive copies of personal information twice within a 12-month period. Any personal information we collect from you to verify your identity in connection with your request will be used solely for the purposes of verification.

3. OUR PERSONAL INFORMATION COLLECTION, USE AND DISCLOSURE PRACTICES

A description of the personal information that we collect online and off-line is provided in Section 2 of the main Policy. The purposes for which we collect and use personal information are described in Sections 2 and 4 of the main Policy. Sources from which we receive personal information are described in Section 3 of the main Policy. Our personal information disclosure practices are described in Sections 6 and 7 of the main Policy. Our personal information retention practices are described in Section 11 of the main Policy.

4. OTHER CALIFORNIA PRIVACY RIGHTS

4.1 Shine the Light Request.

Individual consumers who reside in California and have provided us with their personal information may request information about our disclosures of certain categories of personal information to third parties for their direct marketing purposes. Such requests must include your name, street address, city, state, and zip code, and be submitted to us at one of the following addresses: privacy@custom-goods.com with the subject “California Shine The Light Request” or Custom Goods, LLC, 1035 Watson Center Road, Carson, CA 90745, attention: Privacy Team. Within thirty days of receiving such a request, we will provide a list of the categories of personal information disclosed to third parties for third-party direct marketing purposes during the immediately preceding calendar year, along with the names and addresses of these third parties. This request may be made no more than once per calendar year. We reserve our right not to respond to requests submitted to addresses other than the addresses specified in this paragraph.

4.2 Minor’s Right to Remove Posted Content.

If you are a California resident under the age of 18, and a registered user of any website where this Policy is posted, California Business and Professions Code Section 22581 permits you to request and obtain removal of content or information that you have publicly posted. To make such a request, please send an email with a detailed description of the specific content or information to privacy@custom-goods.com with the subject “Privacy Rights for Minors.” Please be aware that such a request does not ensure complete or comprehensive removal of the content or information you have posted and that there may be circumstances in which the law does not require or allow removal even if requested.
